HOW WE AUTOMATIZE YOUR WORK FLOWS ?

2 Describe Your Workflows

Identify the monotonous and time-consuming processes in your company, department, team, factory that your workers do manually on the computer.

That can be...

- creating excel reports,
- data extraction from pdf and data writing to any system (ERP, SAP, etc.) you use
- invoice processing,
- file archiving

Let Orontes
Analyze

Orontes analyzes the workflow you describe and checks RPA compliance.

If the manual workflow is suitable for RPA, the process algorithm is prepared.

4 Development and Testing

The algorithm is used to develop the defined process.

This development is done in the RPA design studio.

The biggest advantages of this technology, which uses a low-code & no-code structure with a drop-drop approach:

- fast integration,
- high success rate,
- low cost,
- fast project delivery

5 Approval and Delivery

Tests are performed in a dedicated manner with the company that owns the workflow and are made available to the user after approval. After handing over the monotonous jobs where your employees work for long periods of time and with high error rates to software robots, you are now ready to assign your employees to more fun and creative jobs!

The RPA Lifecycle

RPA is not a disposable technology. It lasts as long as the company that owns the process!

Workflows have a dynamic structure. It is very common for something to change in this dynamic structure. RPA should be prepared for such changes just like an employee.

6 The RPA Lifecycle

Orontes promises full support against such changes!

The RPA in the state in which the workflow is designed is revised with the owner of the workflow and the life cycle continues!
